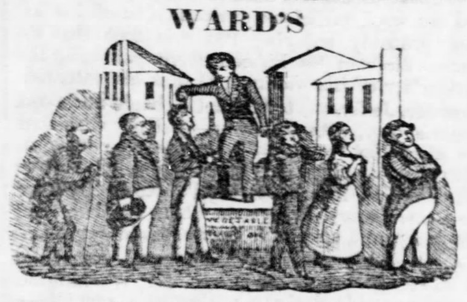
WARD'S



VEGETABLE HAIR OIL.

IN all ages of the world, a beautiful head of hair has been considered the greatest ornament ever bestowed by nature upon the human frame, and indispensably necessary to the perfection of personal beauty. It is a very general complaint of young persons, that their hair is falling off, becoming dry, or unhealthy; this may be owing to the application of improper and injurious oils, or to the entire neglect of the hair. Without proper attention, diseases of the hair will arise, which are often found to occasion thinness, falling off, and frequently total baldness. For these evils, and the necessary inconveniences attending them, Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil will be found in all cases a sure remedy. Before offering this Oil to the public it had been tried in hundreds of cases of baldness, thinness and falling off of the hair, and in every instance its salutary effects have been realized to admiration. It has never failed to produce a new and beautiful growth of hair on heads already bald, and to check that falling off which so often occurs. In cases where it becomes dry and ceases to grow, this Oil will very soon render it healthy, and produce a rapid and beautiful growth, without the least injury to the most delicate head; nor does any falling off follow after using it. That loss of hair, which so often takes place after sickness, may be easily prevented by using this celebrated Oil. In short no Oil has ever been offered to the public that gives such universal satisfaction, and stands the test of experience like Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil.

That the public may rest assured of the salutary effects of this Oil, the following testimonials, from gentlemen of high respectability, are most respectfully submitted:—

Extract of a letter from John A. Wadsworth, M. D., of the city of Providence, R. I. to W. & L. Krumbhaar & Co., of Philadelphia.

Gentlemen: Dr. Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil has gained great repute with us, having restored Hair on heads that have been bald for years, and I have no doubt it will give satisfaction wherever it may be introduced.

Very respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

Messrs. STANLEY & Co., of Baltimore, in writing to Mr. HUNTON, Druggist, in Washington City, say, 'That Letters to them from Druggists in Boston, describe Ward's Hair Oil as being highly approved of there, and selling with astonishing rapidity.

Extract of a letter from Harvey Seymour, Druggist, Hartford, Ct., to the Proprietor, dated Hartford, Sept. 14, 1832.

Dear Sir: I find your Hair Oil a valuable article; I was so unfortunate as to lose the Hair from the top of my head, and, from the use of about half a bottle, I find it starting out anew.

HARVEY SEYMOUR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Oil, you were good enough to put into my hands when I was in Lowell, has produced the most wonderful effects on my Hair that I ever witnessed. You recollect when I called on you, my Hair had fallen very much, and I was quite bald; I have now a beautiful head of Hair, coming on very rapidly. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for the benefit the Oil has afforded me. A number of my friends are very anxious to obtain some of the Oil, and I wish you to send me one dozen bottles of the largest size immediately.

Yours, respectfully,
C. WOOD, M. D.

Extract of a letter from Dr. John A. Wadsworth, of Providence, to the Proprietor.

Esteemed Friend: Your Hair Oil is attended with very promising effects. One of our most respectable citizens, who had been bald for ten years, with a skin as smooth and free from hair as the palm of his hand, has been using the Oil, and fine hair is now coming out on every part of the previously bald scalp.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1832.

I certify that about fifteen years ago, my hair began to fall off, and in a few years became so thin that I found it a source of great inconvenience. On seeing Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil advertised in several New York papers, and highly recommended by two medical gentlemen, with whom I was acquainted, I was induced to make trial of it. When I commenced the use of it, I very much doubted its efficacy in my case, having been bald so many years. But I had not tried it long, before I found it to possess the properties which had been attributed to it. I have now as good and healthy a head of hair as I had twenty five years ago. I can cheerfully recommend it to others who have had the misfortune to lose their hair.

G. W. CUNNINGHAM.

BOSTON, Nov 3, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Sir: A friend of mine had a bottle of your Hair Oil put into his hand, and using it a short time, the hair began to grow on his head, which was before bald, and he had tried many other remedies in vain.

Yours, respectfully,
C. E. ALLEN.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 14.

WORKS OF WALTER SCOTT.—In one of our advertising columns, our readers will see the proposals of Cooke & Conner for publishing a very cheap, uniform, and complete edition of the works of the fascinating "Minstrel of the North," in forty eight numbers, or parts, at thirty seven and a half cents each. We have before us the first published part, being part first of volume second (the publication of the first volume being deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the new edition of the author's Poetical Works, now publishing in England.) This part contains Waverley, very neatly and completely printed in a number of one hundred and forty four pages. We do most sincerely believe that such an inexhaustible and never ending intellectual treat has never been offered in this country at so small an expense. The whole of the works of Walter Scott—Waverley, Guy Mannering, Rob Roy, Old Mortality, Heart of Mid Lothian, Legend of Montrose, Ivanhoe, &c., all, all—for eighteen dollars. Who would not rather save eighteen dollars in the price of a handsome piece of furniture, or a splendid carpet, and secure this work?

Sylvester & Co., at the corner of Wood & Third streets, will receive subscriptions.

MR. KAY'S READING ROOM.—We have several times visited this room situated over his Bookstore, in Market st., and were gratified by what we there saw.—There are no news papers in the room, but it is well supplied with the various Magazines, Journals, and Reviews, from England, Scotland, and different parts of the United States. The room is well lighted, and will be kept open every evening until 10 o'clock.

The establishment, if properly sustained, will be a great convenience, and a valuable acquisition to our reading people, and deserves a liberal encouragement.

The communication which we publish, to day, is from the pen of one who knows, intimately, the subjects of which he treats; and our readers will, very soon, discover that he is not an unpractised writer. We are highly pleased with the frankness and fearlessness with which he discusses his subjects; and his approval of our course and conduct is a source of no ordinary gratification.

The account of the conversation, between Mr. Jefferson and Washington, about Freneau, to which our correspondent refers, is given by Mr. Jefferson himself in his Anas. This we published, a short time since, and intended to make some remarks upon it—our correspondent has superseded some of these remarks.—That Jefferson approved the course of this paper, is manifested by the following extract, from his "Anas." "He (Washington) was sore and warm, and I took his intention to be that I should interpose, in some way, with Freneau; perhaps withdraw his appointment of translating clerk in my office. But I will not do it. His paper has saved our Constitution.

Let our readers only bear in mind that, at this time, Mr. Jefferson held the highest office under the President, and that his clerk was conducting a paper in such a manner as to render the well disciplined mind of Washington 'sore and warm.' Yet the arch hypocrite, Jefferson, declares to himself that he will not interfere to stop the calumnies of Freneau.

Observe, too, Mr. Jefferson's unfair mode of representing Washington's opinion and wishes.—"I took his (Washington's) intention to be that I should interfere, in some way, with Freneau—perhaps withdraw his appointment of translating clerk, &c.'" but I wont do it." How pitiful! Because Washington expressed himself warmly to a member of his cabinet—one in whom he had then no reason to suspect of treachery.—Mr. Jefferson "took his intention to be that he should interfere in some way, perhaps withdraw his appointment."

If Washington had said, "you must dismiss Freneau from your office, or else you must leave my cabinet. Although I personally despise his calumnies, yet I cannot consent that he shall have daily access to the public papers, and make use of the information there obtained to misrepresent all the measures of the administration." Our readers will probably all agree that he would have done right.

Suppose some clerk in the state department, during the administrations of Jefferson or Jackson, had conducted a paper in opposition to those administrations, how long would he have held his office?—About as long as it would take a messenger to walk from the White House to the Clerk's Desk.

For the Gazette.

You have done well, Mr. Craig, with the pupil of Bache, and have taught him an useful lesson. But it seems singular to me, that your publication from the Aurora should have excited so much surprize, and that so many of your young readers were unacquainted with it, and other similar passages, uttered at the time, to pull down Washington's fame. Would it not be well to recommend to them the diligent perusal of the 5th volume of Marshall's life of Washington, or the 2d of the late revised edition? They would be amply rewarded for the trouble of reading it, and could not fail to acquire much useful knowledge of the principles of the parties which first agitated the Republic. They could not fail to discern the purity and disinterestedness of Washington, and those who supported him, as well in the formation of the U. S. Constitution, as in the successful carrying it into execution under his administration. They will see clearly the manifold difficulties he had to encounter from disputed points with foreign powers, and an early, embittered opposition at home, directed against every leading measure of his policy. Yes, Sir, I remember it well, the day of his resignation was hailed in the Aurora "as a Jubilee—his name was no longer to sanction corruption, and legalize crime." Your young men now, can hardly conceive that such a sentiment could have been uttered, publicly, of a man for whom they have felt only love and reverence, and lofty admiration of the fairest name upon the historic page. Indeed, it was said at the time, and subsequent events have sanctioned its truth, that "the pestilent whispers which were clandestinely circulated to contaminate the fairest and worthiest characters, and from which the President, Washington, could not escape, originated in the ambition and jealousy of Mr. Secretary Jefferson, and were put out in the Aurora, and in Freneau's Gazette. Freneau was a Clerk in Jefferson's office, and edited the National Gazette, which teemed with abuse of every act of the administration. You quoted, lately, a conversation between Washington and Jefferson, given, too, by the latter, for posthumous publication, in which the General is represented "as sore and warm" at the calumnies issued against him. There was the hero, the Father of his country, his countenance flushed with just indignation at the bare mention of such atrocious publications, and the cool, malicious, envious rival of his fair fame, probably enjoying the evidences that the arrows directed by himself were poisoning the tranquillity of his victim. "I took his intention (says Mr. Jefferson) to be, that I should interpose, in some way, with Freneau—perhaps withdraw the clerkship from him—But I shall not do it. His paper has saved our Constitution, which was galloping fast into Monarchy." Now, here, under a mere fancy of his own, about the danger of monarchy, and on which he was building the fabric of his own popularity and power, he scruples not to charge the Administration of Washington with treasonable designs against the republic—with an intention to introduce monarchy—a calumny which can now scarcely be credited as having been uttered. Yet it was calculated on as positively to produce powerful effects on a community, whose honest prejudices were strongly against any other form of government than a republic. The calculation was a true one, and Mr. Jefferson made it, waiting cooly for its effect, by which he was to attain the summit of his ambition, and tarnish the reputation of a man infinitely his superior in every manly virtue and honorable sentiment. He coolly determined not to withdraw his patronage from Freneau at a moment when he witnessed the disturbing influence of his calumnies on the great man, who confided in him, and had made him an important officer in his administration of the Government. He placed him where, by the pestilent whisperings of his envy, and jealousy, and inordinate ambition, under the mask too of democratic simplicity, and modest, retiring philosophy, he could disturb the peace of society. It would be, indeed, difficult to persuade the world of the truth of this, had not Mr. Jefferson himself furnished the proofs, and his executors published them. One of the great objects displayed in the columns of Freneau, was to excite a prejudice and jealousy of the Treasury Department, at the head of which was General Hamilton, a genius of a most superior order, under which Mr. Jefferson stood rebuked, or he saw that gentleman in the light of a rival, or at least a powerful obstruction in his path of ambition. This opposition to the Treasury department was continued, after its establishment by laws, on the faithful and energetic, and wise execution of which, the public interests greatly depended, as well as the eclat of Gen. Washington's administration. The subject of finance, involving the pecuniary interest of the people, and touching them in a tender point, was a string that could be made to vibrate in numerous bosoms. It has often, before and since, been managed to produce great excitement; of this Mr. Jefferson was well aware; it was a matter of sure calculation with him. Hence his remark to his friend Callender, whom he hired for his talent at vituperation; "Your book will do much good, and the tax gatherers will do the rest." The objection was not really and truly against the system of finance, created and advised by Hamilton, and adopted by Congress, for so perfect was it, so wisely and critically adapted to our circumstances, that when Mr. Jefferson became President himself, he was unable to add to, or take any thing from it, even with the aid of Mr. Gallatin, the foreign adventurer he called to his aid, and as was said at the time, with the determination of destroying this monument of the talents and energy of Hamilton. There was a great indelicacy, to say the least, in the head of one department interfering, through the press, to render odious in the eyes of the people, and filling their minds with unfounded jealousies and alarms against the organ of another department, upon which the character and unity of the government, and the welfare of the people so much depended; and more particularly, if we suppose him doing all this, not from patriotic motives, for I lay them out of the question, but for purposes of gratification to mere personal ambition and love of power.

In speaking of Mr. Jefferson as you have done, you have ably and satisfactorily supported your remarks by proofs, and that was necessary. Most young men have taken the character and reputation of that gentleman from mere hearsay, without looking back into what will go into the details of history, and upon which his real character will depend with posterity. His present gratification, his fame during his own life, seemed to be his main object; he regarded his posthumous fame as a less important one; so he says in his letter to Mr. Madison, April 27, 1795. And very many of our ancient citizens, pious men and good republicans, have his name associated in their minds with ideas of patriotism and love of liberty—but they were but little acquainted with the real impiety and utter selfishness that reigned in his heart. Your courage will not be dismayed with sarcasms about the cruelty of attacking the dead, and a man of such great popularity, too, who wrote the Declaration of Independence, and a great many fine sentiments that display fully his love for the people. For my part, I like the proverb, "Tell truth, and shame the Devil," much better than "De mortuis, nil nisi bonum." The sacred records bear out the first—but not the last. The Jewish scribes, if they had practised on the latter, might have made out Absalom and Ahitophel very pretty characters. By telling the truth, these two unsuccessful demagogues have been handed down to us as two abominable villains. Success is a great matter to artful schemers; they obtain power and means to attract friends that are ever ready to puff off their good qualities and conceal their bad ones. By a kind of fatality, Mr. J. furnished evidence of the truth of charges formerly brought against him.—His friends denied stoutly, and his enemies in the heat of the excitement were not believed, and so his real character was concealed from the public until a late period, when some freshness has been given to its tints.

It may be useful, especially as the Democratic party is supposed, by some of its own friends, to have departed from its principles, and requires a return to what they affect to call the genuine Jefferson principles, which were in reality the common arts of an unprincipled demagogue, to raise himself on the ruins of other and better men. Nullification may be no more than another resort to the same arts by which he succeeded. It cannot be considered more difficult to make tyrants and monarchists out of Gen. Jackson and his administration, than it was to make them out of Washington and his. The same means, operating on the same materials, may produce similar effects. But there are some drawbacks on such a project. We hope there is a better knowledge, more widely disseminated of the true construction of our Constitution. The Proclamation of President Jackson has been very much read, and its principles were generally understood. Indeed he has done more good in that way than he did at the battle of N. Orleans. It is true, the construction is precisely the same we have always maintained, and is the only one by which the government can be made efficient and useful. But that was nearly forgotten, and he has revived it, for which he is entitled to our gratitude at least, and support against all who aim at state supremacy. We think, too, that it will not be so easy to produce excitement now as formerly, when the French Revolution raged, which had much and deleterious influence upon us, impelling us into its vortex, and from which, perhaps, under Providence, the firmness of Washington chiefly saved us. All the arts played off against him were unavailing to destroy the hold he had on public confidence. General Jackson may do us the same service now, by manfully resisting the most dangerous heresy ever broached among us—one fatal to all we hold dear, should it be successful.

From the Pittsburgh Statesman.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.—We are now authorized to state, and it gives us sincere satisfaction that we are able to do so, that in selecting a candidate for the presidency the National Republicans of this city and county, will not suffer the claims of HENRY CLAY to be overlooked or forgotten. His former friends and supporters in this section of country at least, have not nor will not yield his pretensions—They still look upon his acts and services with admiration, and they will not adopt the selfish and calculating policy, of abandoning a tried friend, for the heartless and mercenary object of promoting their own interests by worshipping the rising sun.

LATE FROM EUROPE.

The ship Constitution, from Liverpool, one of a fleet of vessels from Europe that arrived last evening off the Hook, brings accounts to the 8th ult. They are not, however, very important, except commercially—though that, perhaps, is the best importance after all. The markets were still very brisk for cotton at high prices.

The expedition of Don Pedro's troops, about 5000 strong, of which we heard some days ago, by way of St. Michael, landed, it seems, at Lagos, about 135 miles to the southward of Lisbon, almost as far from the capital, therefore, as Oporto, though in an opposite direction. The harbor of Lagos is large and commodious; the town, though not regularly fortified, has several forts and a strong citadel called the Pinhao—so that if Don Miguel's troops advance from Lisbon against this detachment, it can hold its ground.

Gen. Solignac had followed the example of Admiral Sartorius, and left the service of Donna Maria. Marshal Bourmont, on the other hand, had arrived in London, on his way, it was said, to take command of the Miguelite forces.

The House of Lords adopted the Slavery resolution after debate, on Tuesday, 25th June. On the 28th, the House of Commons, in committee, passed the resolution, that it was expedient to renew the Charter of the Bank of England. The terms of renewal were yet to be discussed.

The Louisa, from Havre, the Pacific and Sheffield from Liverpool, of 4th and 8th July, are, with other ships, below.

Extract of a letter, dated Liverpool, July 1st.—"The past week's business in Cotton has been only exceeded in extent by the celebrated one of 1825, when 100,000 bags changed hands. The total sales of the week were 71,330 bags, 32,000 of which were on speculation.

Another, dated the 8th, says—"Sales of the week, were 35,560 Bs—19.000 on speculation; Uplands, 8 1-2 to 10; Orleans, 8 3-4 to 10 1-2; Mobile, 8 1-2 to 9 3-4; Alabama, 8 1-2 to 9 1-2."

LONDON, July 6.—Consols closed on Saturday last at 90 1-8 to 1-4, fell in the course of the week to 89 7-8 to 90, and are quoted at 90; buyers this morning. The prospect of a speedy ratification of the terms of the Bank Charter, has a favorable effect upon Bank Stock, and it has advanced from 202 1-2 a 3 1-2 to 205 a 6.

LONDON, June 27.—U. S. Bank shares £24. Ohio 6 per cents 117. Pennsylvania 5 per cents 105 a 108 3-4.

LONDON, July 7.—The quarterly Accounts of the Revenue appeared yesterday. The total receipts of the quarter have been £10,847,742; and for the year ending yesterday, £42,711,956.—Compared with the quarter ended 5th July, 1832, the last quarter exhibits a decrease of £5,251.—Compared with the year ended 5th July, 1833, exhibits an increase of £569,703.

In the quarter, the Customs exhibit an increase of £147,432; the Excise, a decrease of £183,740; the Stamps, an increase of £42,557; the Post Office, an increase of £41,000.

In the year, the Customs exhibit an increase of £818,776; the Excise, a decrease of £218,880; the Stamps, a decrease of £119,237; the Taxes, an increase of £85,069; the Post Office, an increase of £16,000.

LONDON, July 7.—The Paris papers, of Thursday and Friday, have arrived by express. The Moniteur, of Monday, contains a Royal Ordinance, dividing the sinking fund among the different stocks, in proportion to their respective amounts, as directed by the law of the 10th June, 1833.—In the same paper, of Tuesday, there is also a Royal Ordinance, preceded by a report from the Minister of Commerce, continuing the temporary modifications in the export and import duties, as established by the existing laws, and also making some temporary modifications in the export and import duties on various articles of commerce.

HOLLAND AND BELGIUM.

The Dutch papers are chiefly filled with accounts of the return of the troops which composed the garrison of Antwerp, and of the reception given to them in different parts of Holland. It appears, from private letters, that the new negotiations are expected by the mercantile classes, to have a favorable result, and that this opinion has had an influence on the Dutch funds, which have for some time past been well supported.

Belgian papers state that the Austrian and Prussian Governments had, at length, come to the determination of sending accredited Ambassadors to the Court of Leopold. Numerous fetes are in preparation to do honor to the forthcoming accouchement of the Queen of the Belgians.

PORTUGAL.

LONDON, July 4.—News from Lisbon and Oporto, to the 26th and 27th ult., has been received, from which we learn that the Duke of Palmella landed his charge successfully at Lagos, a place of some importance, in the Algarves, the most southern province of the kingdom, and the inhabitants of which have been long reported as well affected to the constitutional cause. The people of Lisbon and Oporto, too, appear to have been disappointed that the experiment was not made upon the former place, where success was very likely. Miguel continues to annoy and distress the inhabitants of Oporto by his shells.

"LISBON, June 25.—The Oporto expedition has come down to this coast, and it is strongly rumored, this afternoon, that a landing has been effected at Lagos, in Algarve. The vessels were off the Burlings on Friday, and remained in that quarter, as we learn, until Sunday, for the purpose, as is supposed, of drawing the attention of the government in Lisbon in that direction, and all the force that could be raised has been sent thither. There are now some movements in the Tagus, which indicate apprehensions that the 'enemy,' as they are called, will soon be in possession of the south side, and three armed vessels are placed opposite Casilhos, but nearer to the Lisbon side.

"The fleet of Don Miguel, from all we learn, is certainly to sail to morrow morning. The Duke de Cadoval paid an official visit to the two large ships, this morning. One of the many reports which have been afloat is that Capt. Napier intends attacking the Bugio, and if he could get possession of that battery, it would considerably relieve the entrance, and any number of troops might then disembark on that shore. While I am writing, three suspicious looking vessels are in the offing, and I heard, about an hour since, that it was ascertained, by telegraph, that six large vessels, belonging to Don Pedro, were off the bar. It cannot be long before something decisive will take place. They have many well wishers here for their success.

The British vessels of war have been riding at single anchor since Saturday, to go up the river out of the way of the batteries, on the approach of Don Pedro's party. The Spanish frigate is already gone up; but should the fleet of Miguel go out previously, I believe it to be the intention of Admiral Parker to follow it, in the Asia, accompanied by a frigate, to prevent improper treatment to vessels in the expedition, bearing the British flag.—The French frigate goes out also, it is said, to protect the vessels of that country. The British marines will be landed for the protection of British persons and property, should any disturbance take place here. There will be much sanguinary work, I expect, between the two parties, should the Pedroites attack the capital. The cholera continues its ravages. Many persons, among the better classes, have been carried off within these few days. It has also proved very fatal at Figueiras, and in that neighborhood. That port, up to the 19th, was blockaded by a vessel belonging to Don Pedro. Exchange 14 1-4; agio, 25 per cent."

PARIS, July 2.—The enlistment for the service of Don Pedro is going on actively. Among the enlisted are a considerable number of Polish and Italian refugees. It is said that the Minister of the Marine intends to keep a number of armed vessels prepared in the ports, in case an intervention in the affairs of Portugal should be decided upon by France and England.

The Messager states that the three systems proposed in Don Pedro's Council were—1, That an army of 4,000 men, commanded by the Regent in person, should make a descent on Lisbon—2, That an army, under the command of a General, should proceed to the Algraves in the hope of being joined by a numerous body of Spanish malcontents and deserters, and thence proceeded to Lisbon, while Don Pedro awaited the result at Oporto—and 3, That the whole army should make a sortie from Oporto against the besieging forces, and if successful march on to Lisbon.

This was the opinion of Marshal Solignac, and the adoption of the second plan (which the Messager states to be the object of the expedition) was the cause of his resignation. The Messager considers the decision injudicious, not only because it will occasion delay and increase the chance of Don Miguel being able to interpose a superior force between Donna Maria's army and Lisbon, but because his Algarves is a barren country, where it will be difficult to find subsistence for the troops, and also because the reinforcement of Spanish deserters may give Spain a pretence for interfering against Don Pedro.

SPAIN.

The Jura, or swearing allegiance to the eldest daughter of the King of Spain, in the character of Princess of Asturias, the mode in which it has been usual to acknowledge the next branch in succession, passed off quietly on the 20th June, but gave rise to no enthusiasm. It was a church ceremony, blended with political pageantry. It was thought the Assembly would have done something for the nation; but the anticipation was not realized. The ceremony, therefore, was cold and repulsive, displeasing to the Carlists, because it was the overthrow of their hopes. A protest against the change of succession, as affecting the rights of himself and family, had previously been delivered on the part of the King of Naples.

Don Carlos and family are said to have arrived at Civitta Vecchia. Apartments had been prepared for them in the Barberini Palace, in which it was believed they would permanently reside.

TURKEY.

LONDON, July 7.—The Austrian Observer of the 22d ult. gives accounts from Constantinople to the 8th, according to which Ibrahim Pach was continuing his retrograde march from Asia Minor over Mount Taurus. The Crown Prince of Bavaria has arrived at Constantinople.

VIENNA, June 21.—It is expected that the first accounts from Constantinople will bring news of the departure of the Russian troops and squadron. The conduct of the Emperor Nicholas entirely confutes the perfidious reports that have been circulated respecting his Majesty's intentions.

ITALY.

Accounts from Naples, dated the 12th ult., represent the conspiracy against the life of the King, lately discovered as one of extraordinary atrocity. The principal actors in it were four brothers, sons of the late General Rossarol (implicated with revolutionary movements in Naples in the year 1820, and since dead in Greece.) These young men the King had appointed to Commissioners in his Guard, having previously revoked the attainder declared against their family. It appears, however, that they, with two or three other officers, determined on assassinating the King. The plot having been fortunately detected, the four brothers, and a conspirator of the name of Romano, were arrested. It was agreed between the latter and one of the Rossarols that each should kill the other. Romano fell dead. Rossarol was wounded, but still survived. All the conspirators are said to be in the hands of Justice.

FEDERALISM AND DEMOCRACY.

The editor of the United States Telegraph, after calling the Advertiser a federal paper, to which adjective well and truly understood, in these times, we have no objection, appeals to the 'Democracy of New England.' The Democracy of New England! what an idea! The President, in his Message and Proclamation, has annihilated whatever there was here of what is called Democracy. There is no such stuff now in new England. Not a shred nor a patch of democracy is left among us. We Federalists have metamorphosed democracy into federalism as good as ours. Democracy published Mr. Hayne's speech on satin. Federalism laughed at the act, and now Democracy blushes. Democracy clapped Gov. Hayne, Mr. Calhoun, Gov. Hamilton, and Mr. McDuffie upon their shoulders. Federalism said they were all mad—and now democracy says so also. Federalism put forth Mr. Webster to fight the battles of his country. Democracy laughed at him, his yankee notions and his eloquence; but democracy last winter called upon our Daniel in the day of its trouble. Democracy makes the Presidents, and Federalism rules them. Democracy does the agitating and Federalism the acting. Democracy beats the bush and Federalism catches the bird.

Our personal friend but political adversary of the Telegraph takes care of the South. A word to him, then, and his brethern across the Potomac. The South with their slave representation has controlled, and will long control, unless the north is united, the legislation of this country. You gave us Jackson and lauded him for his democracy. The South re-elected him in spite of our exertions. What then had we to do but to make the best of things as they were? We could not get our man, but we done our best to mould the man the South gave us, to our principles. We have succeeded in almost every thing. We shall succeed more and more every day. Yankee tact, Yankee skill, yankee ingenuity turns all things, even the worst to advantage. The President has come over to us—he thinks better of us, better of New England, better of New England men—and of course we think better of him. To be sure Harvard overacted, in her L. L. D., but if the President deserves half the credit and compliments the South has given him, he is certainly entitled to the L. L. D.—Portland Advertiser.

The Richmond Enquirer tells its readers, that it was only on Thursday last, the President himself, conversing with a citizen of Virginia, justified the propriety of issuing the proclamation; but affirmed, at the same time, that parts of the paper had been much misconstrued by some, and grossly misunderstood by others."

This is another sample of the fairness and wisdom of reporting familiar conversation. The Proclamation is a clear, unequivocal paper. It is too earnest, broad, downright, to be misunderstood by readers of ordinary apprehension. The tendency of the Enquirer's statement is to raise a doubt whether the President himself comprehended what he signed. It is he who misconstrues the Proclamation, if he has not understood it as it was almost universally received.—Nat. Gaz. Aug. 10.

The Natchez (Miss.) Journal estimates the number of slaves in that State who have died of Cholera, at not over 1,000, and, in Louisiana, at 10,000, or about 8 per cent. of the entire slave population.

REPUTATION OF BOSTON.—The Staunton, (Va.) Spectator has the following paragraph:—

"At a recent meeting in favor of the Colonization Society in Boston, it was resolved to make an immediate effort to raise $10,000 for that institution—which, as it is Boston, will be done forthwith."

NAPOLEON.—The love of power and supremacy absorbed and consumed him. No passion, no domestic attachment, no private friendship, no love of pleasure, no relish for letters or the arts, no human sympathy, no human weakness divided his mind with the passion for dominion and for dazzling manifestation of his power. Before this, duty, honor, love, humanity, fell prostrate. Josephine, we are told, was dear to him; but the devoted wife, who had stood firm and faithful in the day of his doubtful fortunes, was cast off in his prosperity to make room for a stranger, who might be more subservient to his power.—Dr. Channing.

Extracts from the Baltimore Prices Current, and Review of the Market, for the week ending Friday evening, August 9.

Coffee.—We note sales of about 500 bags good Rio, at 12 1-2 cents, and about 300 bags at 12¼ cts. A lot of Laguayra was sold at 13 cents. Limited sales of St. Domingo at 12 cents.

Cotton.—A small parcel of Upland was sold this week at 17 cts. This is the only transaction that has come to our knowledge.

Flour—Howard Street Flour.—New Flour continues to come in as yet but slowly, and we cannot perceive that any material difference is made in the market between that manfactured of new wheat, and fresh ground of old wheat. The sales from stores have been limited, at $6 12 1-2 for parcels of 100 or 200 bbls. and at $6 25 for small, retail lots. The wagon price has been steady throughout the week at $6 per bbl. for new, or fresh ground old wheat.

Rice—Is dull. Retail sales at $3 12 1-2 a $3 50 per 100 lbs.

Sugars.—The stock is light, and holders are firm for advanced rates. A few sales of common New Orleans were made at $8 50, and a lot of 60 hhds. prime, at $9 50.

Tobacco.—There has been considerable animation in the Tobacco market, and purchasers have operated more freely, at a very slight improvement on last week's prices. The better description of Ohio and Maryland seem to be most in favor. Among the transactions are 240 hhds. Maryland at $3 50 a $4 50 for inferior, and $5 50 a $7 50 for good to fine reds; parcels of very superior brought $10 a 12; and 60 hhds. Ohio, at $7 a $17. The inspections of the week comprise 590 hhds. Maryland; 219 hhds. Ohio; and 14 hhds. Kentucky—total, 823 hhds.

Whiskey.—The market at length begins to recover from the dullness which has pervaded it for some time past. At the beginning of the week, limited sales of hhds. were made at 28 1-2 cents, and more recently at 29 cents. Holders are firm to day at the last named price, and we quote accordingly. In the early part of the week the prices of Susquehanna bbls. ranged from 30 to 31 cents, but they are now considered worth half a cent per gallon more. Sales of approved lots have been made made at 31 1-2 cents; we therefore quote at 30 1-2 a 31 1-2 cents. The receipts by wagons continue to be limited. The wagon price of bbls. is 26 a 26 1-2 cents; and sales from stores at 31 cents. The inspections of the week comprise 8 hhds. and 433 bbls. of which 7 hhds were received from the Susquehanna.

Wagon Freights—Have advanced since our last. We now quote to Wheeling, $2 25, and to Pittsburgh, $2 per 100 lbs.—American.

PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

CONNER & COOKE,

Franklin Buildings, corner of Ann and Nassau streets, New York.

Western Collegiate Institute,

FOR YOUNG LADIES,

NEAR PITTSBURGH,

UNDER the superintendence of WILLIAM B. LACEY, D. D., with arrangements of increased efficiency, will commence it Autumnal Session, on the First Monday in September next.

In the Senior department, Dr. Lacey, with competent Assistants, will bear recitations in Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Chemistry, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Logic, Elements of Criticism, in reference to Language and the Fine Arts, Elocution, Natural Theology, Evidences of Christianity, and Sacred History.

In the Junior Department, Mr. Bryan B. Killikelly, late Vice Principal of a Collegiate School, in the city of New York, will give instructions in Orthography, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography, Botany, Geology, Ancient and Modern History, Rhetoric, and the Latin and Greek languages.

In the Ornamental department, Mrs. Lacey, assisted by accomplished instructors, will give lessons in the French, and Italian languages, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, and Painting, in the style of several of the European, and Oriental Schools, Calisthenics, and the forms and elegancies of polished life.

The price for Board, General Superintendance, Fuel, Candlelight, Pew Rent, access to an extensive Library, instructions in Calesthenics, Orthography, Reading, Writing, Rudiments of Geography, and Arithmetic, and all the varieties of Needle Work, will be $30 per term. To this charge will be added, for instruction in any or in all of the higher branches taught in the Junior department, (except the Latin and Greek languages) $6; or instead thereof, in any or in all the branches of the Senior department, $8; French and Italian, each $8; Music, including the use of the instruments for practice, $13; Drawing, and Painting, $6; Bronzing and Painting, in the Oriental styles, $20. Or, if Parents prefer a more definite arrangement, Dr. Lacey will Board, and Instruct, in any, or in all the branches taught in the Institute, for $200, per annum, per scholar, they paying the amount in advance.

The Principal intends to establish, in the vicinity, and under his own general Superintendance, a school for small boys, where, with his own sons, they will be fitted for entrance into any college in the United States. The charge for board and tuition, in any or in all the branches of a finished English education will be $120 per annum, and for other branches proportionally moderate.

No scholar will be received for a less time than one term; and all bills must be paid one quarter in advance.

Each pupil is required to bring a Bible, Bed, and Bedding, Towels; Table spoon, Tea spoon, Knife and Fork.

Pupils will be permitted to attend any place of public worship their Parents may designate.

The Institute having been in operation four terms, and sustained two public examinations, Dr. Lacey submits, with particular satisfaction, the following spontaneous testimonial of its character, and results from Parents and friends of pupils in the Institute.

Pittsburgh, August 3, 1833.

TO THE REV. W. B. LACEY, D. D.—

Dear Sir—We have been so amply gratified by the late examination of your Female Collegiate Institute, that we feel it equally a pleasure and a duty to express our satisfaction, and to wish you such success in your enterprise as may remunerate you for your large expenditure, and, in some measure, compensate you for the unwearied application of your talents and learning to the cause of Education.

The examination was conducted with such minute and critical severity as served to test, to the utmost, the understanding of the pupils, and the extent of their acquisitions in their varied and interesting studies.

When it is taken into consideration that the number of pupils did not exceed fifty, and that three days were spent, almost without relaxation, in ascertaining their mental and moral improvement, the results must be considered as peculiarly gratifying to their parents and friends, and as reflecting the highest credit upon the Principal of the Institute and those to whom their instruction has been committed.

The examination embraced, in its range, the elementary, as well as the higher branches of elocution, Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Rhetoric, the elements of Moral Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, Astronomy, Algebra, French, Music, and Calesthenic exercises.

In the whole course, whether in those matters that belong to the useful and essential branches, or those that may be termed the accomplishments and refinements of Education, care, attention, and talent, on the part of the instructors, and devotion and industry on the part of the pupils, were obvious. Peculiar interest was excited by the classes that had devoted their attention to Elocution and Rhetoric, by the highest class in French, whose translations from D'Agguessau, Racine, & L'Henriade, were subjects of just commendation; and by the young Ladies who had devoted their attention to Moral Philosophy, whose application of its principles to the Science of Government, and thorough knowledge of the Constitution of the United States, created feelings of mingled surprize and admiration in the bosoms of us all.

The class in Algebra, under the particular charge of Professor Aikin, evinced a knowledge of that most difficult branch of Mathematics, and also of Chemistry and Botany, entitling him and them to high approbation.

The Musical exhibition was extremely satisfactory, as evincing the capability of Mr. Rupp, the Musical Professor, in that delightful accomplishment, and the rapid improvement of his pupils.

Without entering further into detail, sir, we express our entire satisfaction with the result of your system, and cannot forbear expressing a wish that the citizens of our wealthy, manufacturing metropolis, and our fellow citizens throughout the western states, who wish to afford to their daughters the benefits of a refined, accomplished, and useful education, at about one third of the expense that such an education would cost them in eastern cities, will confer their patronage upon your Institution. In addition to all the advantages as regards the improvement of mind and manners which an eastern Institution can afford, the location of your Institution, surrounded by scenes of picturesque beauty, with its groves, orchards, and gardens, its springs of pure water, and in the midst of a country which may be emphatically denominated the residence of health, would, of itself, operate as a strong inducement to parents who are disposed to send their children abroad for education to intrust them to your care.

I have been acquainted with the Institute from its commencement. Its pupils have been unusually healthy; indeed, the situation is one of the most salubrious which I know. At the time of the late examination, in a family of upwards of seventy persons, including the pupils, there was not one who was the subject of medical treatment.

PROSPECT HILL

Literary & Scientific Institution.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.

ON the 1st of July, Mr. DANIEL STONE intends opening, near the City of Pittsburgh, an Institution for the instruction of boys. Its plan is to combine, as far as possible, the peculiar advantages of a domestic and public education.—The pupils, with the principal and assistants, will constitute one family, and be at all times under careful supervision. The Discipline will be mild, but strict, such as a father, solicitous for the welfare of his children, would exercise over them. It is believed that an appeal to reason, and the sense of honor and duty, will generally secure obedience. Coercive measures will, therefore, be adopted only in extreme cases.

The Course of Study will embrace the English, Latin, Greek, and French Languages; Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry; Geography and History—Ancient and Modern; Rhetoric, Composition, and Elocution; Natural Philosophy and Chemistry; Penmanship, Orthography, and Reading. Frequent examinations will be held, open to the friends and relations of the youths.

The Mode of Instruction will be thorough and critical, and no subject will be relinquished until fully understood. That the scholar's mind may become vigorous, active, and self-confident—prepared for the stern conflicts of life, and a fearless discharge of its duties, he will be encouraged to reason and decide for himself.

Each student will be required to attend such church as his parent or guardian shall designate.

To preserve health and elasticity of spirits, to check indolence, and promote industry among the students, they will be daily exercised in athletic sports.

Pupils will be admitted between the ages of Six and Sixteen. None can be received for less than one term.

The uniform Dress will consist of a cap, blue roundabout, with metal buttons, and blue pantaloons. Every article of clothing should be marked with the owner's name in full.

The Terms are two hundred dollars a year, payable quarterly in advance. This includes Tuition, Board, Lodging, Washing, Mending, Light, and Fuel.

The Vacations, after the present year, will be three—the 1st, of two weeks, from the 3d Wednesday in April; the 2d, of four weeks, from the 2d Wednesday in August; and one week at Christmas.

The Matron's department will be under the care of Mrs. Reynolds, of this city.

New Theatre, Pittsburgh.

THE Public is respectfully informed, that this ELEGANT NEW THEATRE, at present building, in Fifth Street, will be opened for the Season, under the management of the subscriber, with a Dramatic Company not surpassed by any in the Union, on Monday, the Second of September, 1833.

The building has been substantially erected, by those well known Mechanics, Messrs. Roseburg, Reynolds, Scott, & McCulloch, after a plan drawn by John Haviland, Esq., of Philadelphia, whose justly acquired fame as an Architect will be increased by the style and Beauty of the Present Edifice.

A first rate London Artist has been employed, for the last three months, in preparing the Dresses especially for this Theatre, which, in point of

ELEGANCE AND SPLENDOR,

Will equal, if not surpass those belonging to the Metropolitan Theatres of New York, or Philadelphia.

THE SCENERY

Has been designed and executed by Mr. J. R. Smith, a young Artist of great talent, and whose productions may challenge comparison with those of the most distinguished Scene Painters of the day.

THE MACHINERY

Has been entrusted to the care of Mr. Stafford, late of the Philadelphia Theatres, and the direction of the

MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT

Will be placed under the Superintendence of Mr. Hoffner, of the Chesnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia.

In addition to the exertions of the Regular Company, most of whom are advantageously known in the Eastern Theatres, the Manager has great pride and pleasure in informing the inhabitants of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, that he has engaged, at great expense, the celebrated American Tragedian

MR. E. FORREST,

Who will have the honor of appearing before them at an early period, of which due notice will be given. Negotiations have already been entered into with the most distinguished Performers of the American Stage, who will appear in rapid succession—among others,

MISS CLARA FISHER,
MRS. KNIGHT,
MR. J. R. SCOTT,

Also, Mr. PARSLOE, of the Theatre, Covent Garden, London, &c. &c. &c.

In making these arrangements, the subscriber has used every exertion in his power to render THE THEATRE a place of rational amusement---

"To raise the genius and to mend the heart;
Shew Virtue her own features;
Vice her own image;
The age and body of the time, his form and pressure."

And he throws himself confidently on the liberality of the citizens of Pittsburgh for support.

WILSON & SMITH, from N. York,

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Pittsburgh and the neighboring towns, that they have commenced the manufacture of the above beautiful and elegant article, so much admired and worn throughout Europe, and the principal cities in the United States.

W. & S. beg leave to observe, that, after various experiments, they have at last succeeded in bringing this Hat to the highest state of perfection, and they can assert, with confidence, that in point of color, lightness, elasticity, durability, and general beauty of appearance, they cannot be surpassed by the most expensive Hat that is made. Gentlemen are invited to call and examine them, and judge for themselves.

Wholesale Dealers supplied at the same prices as in the New York markets.

MILL AND CROSS-CUT SAWS.

THE Subscriber has the satisfaction to say to the public, and his friends, that he has connected with his other business, the manufactury of Mill and Cross Cut Saws; and can furnish supplies to merchants and others: he believes them to be equal to any ever used in the western country—the experience of the workmen employed, with the known good qualities of the steel, justifies him in warranting the article to any who may be disposed to patronize western industry.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in all cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river, where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
